The significance of the mention of the word "eagles" in Isaiah 40:31 has been expounded many times. Eagles in this case are used to define a characteristic that those who know and trust God possess.

The name "Eagles" is the one that Nebraska Christian High School has accepted as its school name. May it always be that through the training and experiences received here, the Eagles of N.C. will be distinguished by that which we read in the first part of Isaiah 40:31. May the characteristic be that these are "they that wait upon the Lord." Then, and then only will the products of this school meet the scriptural qualification of an eagle. For this the school exists.

I Corinthians 10:13 There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man, but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above what that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way of escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

There is a time for everything. . . .

"In my senior year, campaigning for student body president, one of my faithful supporters was helping me put up posters. My assistant proceeded to climb the book shelves to mount a poster above the library clock. Upon turning to reach for some tape, he bumped the time piece enough to jar it from its resting place. In spite of yelling and grabbing for it, it reached the dreaded destination. The face of the clock was broken into innumerable little pieces. Wonder of wonders the clock still worked. We hung it back up, and included it in the list of projects to be improved for the year."

Somehow we got too much water on the floors, an inch if I remember correctly, so we started wading through it with our shoes off. Then we got the brilliant idea, as freshmen are wont to do, that we were going to have fun. We started skating up and down the hallway, narrowly missing the stairway several times. Then it happened! Born in Brussels, Belgium, the daughter of the President of Grace Bible Institute (Pris) has a wide scope of interests and has lead an interesting life in her three years here at school . . . "Among the many ridiculous things I've done at NC are these: the times I hurdled the pine trees around campus, especially the ones by the girls dorm: the week I spent most of my spare time having funerals for mice and birds; the "Comedy Hour" class minutes which I diligently kept from week to week; the contests to see who could drink the most milk—usually I won—Mr. McDermott called me "milk-aholic"; the contests to see how few bites we could consume an apple in—(5 is the record); the after-lights-out parties of ghost stories, birthday parties, discussions; the hours I've spent counting how many times my name was written on the science room tables; the time I spent hours knitting a pair of suspenders for a good friend; the time I had to drink someone's milk for putting salt in it; the day when I was told I was the best influence on the school, and the same day I had the worst attitude."

JUDY KAY KRACHT

Bloomfield, Nebraska

Colossians 3:17 "And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him."

Judy says her favorite time of day is 9 P.M. "because evening study hall is out and we are free to go to bed or have a little fun in the dorm.?" She may appear to be quiet but . . . "When I was about the age of 9 or 10, I cut the top of my foot and had to have stitches. This happened around camp time and the doctor gave me permission to go to camp if I would be "quiet." The next morning I went outside and did calisthenics right along with the rest of the kids and in the afternoon I participated in recreation. That evening the camp nurse carried me to the car to take me to the doctor because I had ripped some of the stitches out. On the way down the steps, she slipped and sprained her ankle; but she didn't drop me. From that time on I knew that when the doctor said to be "quiet", he didn't mean that I should not talk too much but that I should not be as ambitious as I usually am!"

Proverbs 3:6 "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

Even though Judy lives off campus, she seems to add life to our regular pattern at school. . . . "During my sophomore year, every week for three weeks in a row, I fell down (or up) some flight of stairs in the Ad-building. The first two were not harmful except for bruised legs. The third time, it was for real. I fell down the three steps leading to the basement. Two girls were practicing in the hallway and saw me fall. Instead of rushing to my aid they laughed and laughed—I didn't think it was too funny, but I laughed too. After I saw the doctor the next day, I found that I had a sprained ankle and had to wear a slipper for the next week. Since that time, I am proud to say that I have not fallen down the stairs once!"

FAIRY FAITH NICKOLAUS

Hampton, Nebraska

Colossians 3:2 and 3 "Set your affections on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God."

Busy Fairy is pretty much the life of the dorm and of other places . . . One cold, icy, terribly windy day when I was in the 7th grade, I walked out the driveway to get on the schoolbus. The end of the driveway slants up to the road, and this day it was completely covered with ice. Just as I got to the end of the driveway the wind really started to blow and I fell down on the ice. I tried to get up about five times, but the wind was blowing so hard and it was so icy I simply couldn't do it. By that time everyone on the bus had their noses pressed against the window to see the show. Finally the bus driver had to come help me, and the whole bus was absolutely roaring by the time I got on the bus! I've never heard the end of it!"

FAITH NAOMI NORRIS

Psalms 51:12 "Restore unto me the joy of the salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit."

Faith, the daughter of missionaries to the Navajo tribe in Colorado, finds life interesting in more ways than one. For instance . . . "I remember the week Marilyn, Diane, and I ate five watermelons—big ones, too. We bought one of them at a highway stand on the way home from a softball game. So there we were, the three of us, hanging out the back of Wright's station wagon, so as not to get juice all over the car, eating watermelon. By the time we got home, we had eaten the entire watermelon. When Mr. Wright let three juice soaked girls out of his car, he ordered them to wash the seeds and juice off the back end of this car. Our precautions weren't quite enough!"

We took our lunch break in Woolworth's lunch area. As we sat eating our lunch, a hippie fellow with terribly long hair walked in and sat in a booth across from us. Two of Margaret's favorites are puzzles and math. Here's a puzzler that may have taken some math to figure out . . . "Have you ever seen me hard at work mouse squashing? One morning my roommate saw a mouse run into the closet. We looked for it but couldn't find it. After school we were sure it was still in the closet, so a group of girls came to help us clean the closet. We finally caught the mouse in the waste basket. They took it to another room so others could admire it, but it got away. Standing outside the door with a broom, I waited for it to come out—Swat—Squash, and the poor thing was dead. Mrs. Wipf said it would be all right, so we took pillows, blankets, and alarm clocks down to room 9. In the morning there was ringing and buzzing from every direction at different intervals. Think Phyllis is quiet? . . . "It all started with a flick of a wet finger, then Betty, Fairy, Faith and I had a water fight. I had some water left in my glass, which I used to the best advantage—I threw it at them and got it all over their floor. Immediately they told me to get a mop—I didn't. It was after lights out, and my roommate and I had just crawled into bed when a shadow appeared in our door and I found myself soaked with water. Faith and I were determined to pay them back. After the 6:30 bell rang, I awoke to the rustle of paper outside our door. I knew it had to be Fairy and Betty. There was a knock on the door, I opened the door and there it was, a wall of newspapers! After turning on the light I discovered a note which read, "Phyllis Jean Wallace, get the mop or else!!!" It was signed by Betty and Fairy."

They escorted mom to the hospital, put her in a wheel chair at the emergency door, I was born several hours latter.

"Rowse Hydraulic Rakes"

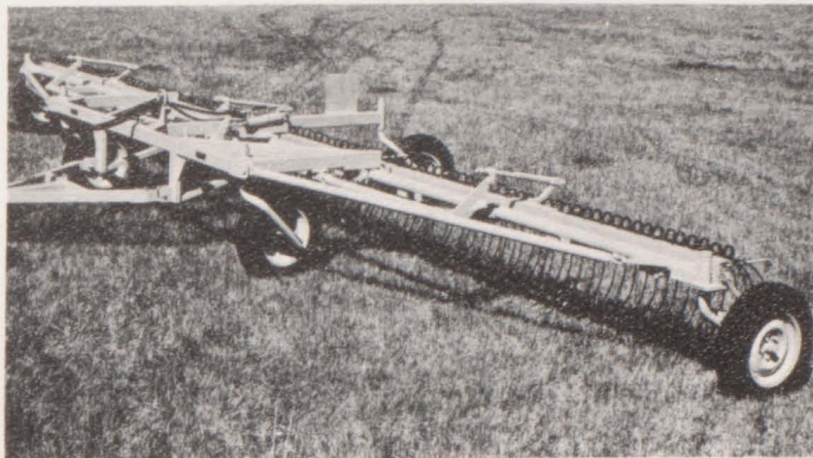

Made in Sizes 16' - 20' - 24' - 25' - 28' - 30' - 36' - 42'

- This rake is very flexible and merely floats over the ground, as the rake is carried by 5 wheels which are so arranged that uneven ground has little effect on the rake. This also protects the rake teeth from breakage.

- Another feature that protects the teeth is springs on the holddown, which absorb much of the shock and strain on the teeth.

- One double-acting hydraulic cylinder easily operates the rake.

- This is the rake that has made all other rakes obsolete, and has found favor with farmers and ranchers alike.

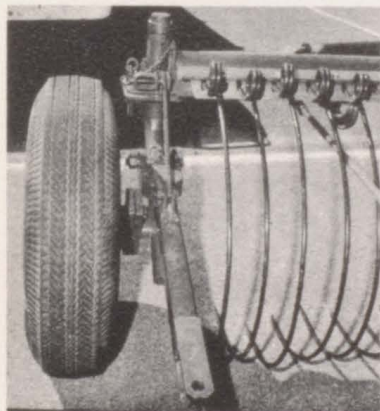

Rake, in operating position.

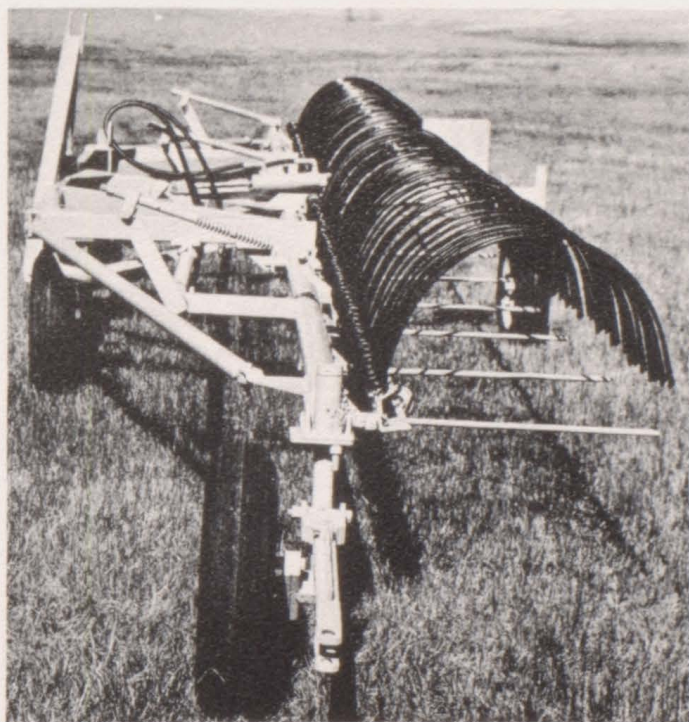

TRANSPORTATION — NO PROBLEM

It takes only seconds to change this rake from operating position to transport position. To transport the rake, the tractor is disengaged from the main tongue, which is then lifted to an upwardly position. The tractor is then engaged to a short tongue which is assembled to one of the end wheels. This wheel is locked in position by means of a pin when the rake is in operating position. (See picture at left.) The opposite end wheel locks in two positions, one for raking, the other for transportation. The center wheels are caster wheels, and automatically assume the position the rake is being pulled. The rake is only about 8 ft. wide when being transported, and can be pulled by car or pick-up at least 50 miles per hour.

Simple Mechanism changes to transportation position.

Ready to be moved anywhere.
